Document F: Copy of the Residence Card or a copy of the Certificate of Residence *Required only for applicants residing in Japan

Submit one of the following documents.

- Copy of both sides of the Residence Card
- Copy of the Certificate of Residence that contains the applicant’s nationality, residence status, and period of stay.

6 Applicant Selection Process

Selection

The screening is done based on application documents (Document C* and Document D) and the interview examination. Applicants will be interviewed in English via the Internet. The interview examination will be held on the time and date specified by the School of Applied Biological Science between November 10, 2026 and November 12, 2026.

Applicants will be comprehensively evaluated in the interview on their level of interest in and motivation for applied biological science, their ability to develop and analyze problems, their communication skills, and their attitude (all of which will be assessed on a point-based scale).

The Personal Statement (Document A) will be used as a reference material for the interview.

* The subjects and sections required for the Examination for Japanese University Admission for International Students (EJU) are as shown in the table below.

Subjects	Sections	Language
Mathematics	Course 2	English
Science	Two subjects selected from Physics, Chemistry, and Biology

Pass/Fail decision

The decision will be made based on a comprehensive evaluation of the applicant’s scores on the EJU*, the English Language proficiency test designated by the University, and the interview examination results (maximum of 300 points).

* As a guideline for ensuring smooth academic progress after enrollment, applicants are generally expected to have obtained a combined score of approximately 280 points or higher in Mathematics (Course 2) and Science in the EJU.
